

FIGURE ON LARGE CROP OF BERRIES

Home Fracaria Patches to Produce Plentiful Supply of Fruit, Rock Island Dealers Predict.

CHEERRIES ARE TO BE SCARCE

Local Grown Will Not Be Plentiful, According to Present Indications—Green Stuff Abundant.

Strawberries, shipped in from southern Illinois fields, are soon to have a rival on the Rock Island markets, when the local berries ripen. Dealers here figure that within the next two weeks the local product will be placed on the market.

Southern Illinois berries are getting cheaper, having dropped from 15 cents a quart from a week ago to 12½ cents. The local strawberries will very likely be cheap from the start, as present indications are that there will be a heavy crop.

Dealers are not anticipating receipt of great quantities of cherries from the local orchards this year. Reports are that there are to be few cherries. California cherries have arrived on the market and are selling for 30 cents a pound.

Pineapples, which made their debut here a week ago, are becoming plentiful. They are selling for 15 cents apiece. Grape fruit and oranges are also quite plentiful, although it is expected that grape fruit will not last much longer. The present supply is being received from Florida and dealers predict that there will be no more at the end of another month.

Home grown spinach is now on the market. It is selling two pounds for 15 cents. Home grown lettuce is of good quality and is plentiful. It is selling at 20 cents a pound. Onions and radishes are found in abundance at prices suitable to every purse.

Home hothouse tomatoes are popular among the produce shoppers, selling for 20 cents a pound. The shipped-in variety is selling from 10 to 15 cents a pound. Cucumbers, grown locally under glass, are retailing at 10 to 15 cents. Now cabbage is being imported and is going 6 cents a pound.

Affected by Weather Conditions.

Plentiful sells for 15 cents and asparagus is plentiful, although the supply has been fluctuating according to the local weather conditions. When the weather is favorable there is plentiful quantities of asparagus on the market, but when unfavorable weather lasts for any period the supply is not so great. There has been no dearth, however.
